LB 267, 407

is making with LB 407 so that we can identify or people that have to identify can identify minors better with what's coming through with the Department of Motor Vehicles. But something maybe I will consider introducing next year is that maybe we make all three of those, the lottery, you know, cigarettes and so forth, at...at 21 age. But it's just something, when Senator Landis mentioned lottery, it struck a chord because I didn't know that there was a different...a different age. And I'll give my time, the rest of my time back, Madam Chairman.

SENATOR CROSBY: Thank you, Senator Hartnett. Senator Brashear.

SENATOR BRASHEAR: Madam Chair, thank you, members of the body, that old rumor keeps talking about the fact that I have some sort of amendment and I do. I'm trying to develop a sense. I was not here. That's my absence, not anybody else's responsibility. I was not here on General File, and I guess I'm going to utilize some of my time here to visit about what bothers me about the bill and try and continue to develop a sense of where the members of the body are because I'm not here to be an obstructionist. I appreciate it, I do some of it myself, and I appreciate it when members get together and work on accommodations and packages that will be efficient and will be economical in terms of our time allowed for debate. But I...I do have concerns. I have been contacted about retailers and I do have concerns about a 48-hour suspension for a second and subsequent violation. And I do have as great as...I do have a great or greater concern about a 48 hour suspension option for a second violation in a four-year period, and I don't think there's been very much attention paid to the four-year period. And the amendment which I would file, but it's not designed to be obstreperous or obstructionist would be something that I think just is a little more reasonable, and that would be a third or subsequent violation in a three-year period. So why do I care? Like all of you I go out and I shop in retail establishments. Do an experiment. When you have a 97 cent item, hand the cashier a dollar and two cents. See what happens. You get a quizzical look. It's like you can't count and nobody knows why you're doing it. It's almost impossible to divine that you want a nickel back instead of three pennies. In this day and age when we talk about full employment, and we talk about diminished labor availability, and we talk about thriving
